

DIRECT FROM THE NEHA PREPAREDNESS PROGRAM COMMITTEE

• c -0.015E435 ) 7 nE26 363 032 026 0 r2 .015E43215 8.332 1 Tf 027

»

municate and better understand each other. Securing adequate funding for preparedness infrastructure at the state or regional level has been shown to greatly improve coordination across sectors.

These findings are a call to action for all EPH professionals to engage their state and local preparedness exercise planners to invite EPH professionals to their exercises and to get EPH problems added to the script. Finally, the panel recommended that NEHA engage FEMA and the Administration for Strategic Preparedness and Response (ASPR) at

■